PREFACE.

SOME five years ago I undertook to prepare for publication the records of men who had belonged to Wadham College. Beginning with the foundation of the College, and continuing to 1881, I found that I had gathered over 6,000 names. The question then arose, by what standard should I determine who were Wadham men? Should I confine myself to the members of the Foundation, or should I include Commoners? Should I be guided by the University Matriculation Registers, or limit my list to Graduates? Should I depend on the College Admission Registers as far as they existed, or the more complete but very confused records of Cautions deposited with the College? I soon found that no one standard would do. Several of the most eminent men were never on the Foundation. A very large number resided and paid Caution without matriculating, a still larger number without graduating. Many members of the Foundation never paid Caution money, and the Admission Registers have large gaps in them. I have therefore determined to include all the names that I could collect whether from University or College records, whether as matriculating, graduating, residing, or paying Caution. And if in such a list I shall seem at times to have claimed for Wadham men whose careers belong more properly to other Colleges or the sister University, I shall have at least wronged no writers save Dr. Bloxam and Mr. Boase (to whose records of Magdalen and Exeter men I am much indebted, not merely for information, but also for example), and shall not be sorry if my work stirs up the historians of other Colleges to vindicate their claims to some of those who are here set down as Wadham men.

In tracing the careers of men after leaving the University, the numerous histories of the English counties, especially Dorset, Devon, and Somerset, have been searched; and when other clues failed, Marshall's Genealogist's Guide has often suggested fresh sources of information. Much material has also been gathered from the publications of the Harleian Society, the Camden Society, and the Oxford Historical Society. Weaver's Somersetshire Incumbents, from which many valuable suggestions were obtained, only appeared after my early sheets were in type. Foster's Alumni Oxonienses hardly touches the period contained in this volume.

The best thanks of all interested in this kind of work are due to the Warden and Fellows of Wadham College for the courtesy with which they placed all their records at my disposal, and I would express my own gratitude for the kindness and hospitality which they extended to me during my frequent visits to Oxford, whereby the toil of this duty of piety is associated with many pleasant memories. I must also beg the numerous clergy who have searched Registers and copied monuments for me, particularly throughout the county of Somerset, to accept this grateful acknowledgment of the services which they have rendered to the work. And I would express my thanks to Sir Albert Woods, Garter, not only for giving me access to the Sussex Collections (MS.) of my late uncle, William Courthope, Somerset Herald, but also for his readiness to furnish me with help from the valuable MS. Collections of Pedigrees preserved in the College of Arms.

I must mention that the work has grown in bulk far beyond what I originally contemplated, for I had hoped that one volume would contain all the 6,000 names and some Appendices to boot on the Wadham family, the Endowment and Estates, the Buildings, Benefactors, Servants, Library, Plate and Pictures, &c.

Now I will only add that should this record of a hundred years of Wadham commend itself to those interested in University history, I will endeavour at some future time to make use of the large collections which I have already gathered so as to carry on the work for another century and a half.

In a work consisting so largely of names and dates it is scarcely possible to avoid some errors, and perhaps some identifications may appear to be based on insufficient grounds. I can only say that I have endeavoured to place strict limits on my conjectures, and to give each name and date as nearly as possible as it stands in the original authority; so that, with confidence in my own efforts to be strictly honest in the use of my materials, I commit the general result to the charity of students.

ROBERT B. GARDINER.

INTRODUCTION.

Wadham College was founded by Nicholas Wadham, of Merifield, in the county of Somerset, and Dorothy his wife, daughter of Sir William Petre, of Writtle, in the county of Essex. Being the last male of an ancient and wealthy stock, seated in Devonshire from the reign of Edward I., Nicholas desired while leaving the Wadham estates to his natural heirs, his sisters and their descendants, to secure the perpetuation of his family name by founding the "Collegium Wadhami" out of his private fortune. It is said that it was at first intended to establish a college at Venice for the reception of English students; but however this may have been, Nicholas Wadham had changed his purpose before his death, and resolved to establish in the University of Oxford, where he had himself been at one time a Fellow Commoner either of Christ Church or of Corpus Christi College, "Collegium pauperum et indigentium Scholarium ad laudem, gloriam et honorem Omnipotentis Dei, bonarum litterarum incrementum ac communem hujus regni utilitatem." With this end in view he endeavoured to acquire the site of Gloucester Hall (now Worcester College), but he died before the completion of the purchase, having intrusted the fulfilment of his design to his widow. Failing to secure the ground selected by her husband, Dorothy Wadham purchased of the citizens of Oxford the site of Austin Friars; and having obtained Letters Patent from King James I. (dated 20 December, 1610) she proceeded to erect upon it the buildings which still stand there, almost unchanged, and which form perhaps the most uniform and perfect specimen of collegiate architecture in the University.

On the 16th August, 1612, she put forth the statutes of the college, and on the 20th April, 1613, the Society was constituted by the admission of the Warden, Fellows and Scholars nominated by the Foundress. At this time the building must have been nearly finished; the chapel was consecrated on the 29th April, 1613. The building comprised a chapel with ante-chapel, a hall and kitchen with library over it and numerous chambers, of which a further account will be found in the Appendix.

The Foundress continued to direct the management of the college in many respects until her death in 1618.

The Statutes

state that the college is founded for a Warden, fifteen Fellows, as many Scholars, two "Capellani in sacris ordinibus constituti," two "Clerici," an Obsonator, two Cooks, two Butlers and a Porter. The Fellows were allowed to study in any faculty, but the Warden was required to proceed to the degree of Doctor of Divinity within a year of his election. A Fellow might retain his fellowship for eighteen years from his regency as M.A.; a Scholar might remain in his place if he wished for twelve years after taking his degree of M.A. Three of the Scholars were to be taken from the county of Somerset and three from Essex: and by a subsequent ordinance the Foundress directed that persons of Founder's kin, if fit, should have a preference in elections, provided that there should not be more than three Fellows and three Scholars of Founder's kin at the same time in the college. Commoners and Batellars might be admitted to reside in the college, but their tutors must give a bond of £10 for the payment of the pupils' Battels. A Commoner was to give twenty shillings or a silver cup on his admission; a Batellar ten shillings. Pupils were not to take the College Oath before the age of fifteen. The Bishop of Bath and Wells for the time being was appointed Visitor, with the power of visiting once in five years or oftener on the requisition of the Warden and Seniors.

College Officers.

These were originally eight in number besides the Warden, viz. Sub-Warden, Dean, two Bursars, Humanity Lecturer, Catechist, Moderator of Philosophy and Sub-Dean: to these was added a Librarian in 1618; and in 1623 "a new class was constituted of the Inferior Class of Sophisters," and a tenth officer (Moderator Novæ Classis) was elected, apparently to assist the Sub-Dean. All the original offices were held almost invariably by Fellows, except that of Sub-Dean, which was generally held by a graduate Scholar or Probationer Fellow; the Librarian was always a Fellow; the Moderator Novæ Classis, was generally a Scholar, but occasionally a Commoner: this latter officer was appointed annually till 1640, and again from 1666 to 1689, after which date the records of elections cease for a time. The other officers continued to be appointed nominally each December, but in the middle of the last century a custom grew up of allowing some or all of them to act by deputy, so that at times three or four Fellows (and even two) were executing all the offices, the nominal holders being non-resident, and only coming up for Elections and other business. All the officers were nominated by the Foundress as long as she lived. Subsequently they were elected annually on St. Nicholas Day, 6th December. The officers then elected served therefore for the year following their date of election, or if we observe the Old Style, for the last three months of the year of election and nine months of the subsequent year. The Bursars seem generally to have each executed the duties of their office for half the year.

At first most of the offices changed hands annually, and were rarely held for more than two consecutive years; and even when it was seen to be desirable to secure more continuity in the working of the college, this was obtained by the above system of deputies, the officers being still nominally changed.

The Records.

In dealing with the records of Wadham, it is necessary to break up the subject into Periods.

The First of these Periods will extend from the opening of the college in 1613 to the end of the Civil War, about 1647; this will include the time of the first five Wardens.

The Second Period will be from 1647 to 1659, the reign of Warden Wilkins: during part of which time the University was under the rule of the Parliamentary Visitors.

The Third Period will run from 1659 to 1689, and include the reigns of Wardens Blandford and Ironside.

The Fourth Period extends from 1689 to 1738, the reigns of Wardens Dunster, Baker and Thistlethwayte.

The Fifth Period is from 1738 to 1806; the time of Wardens Lisle, Wyndham, Gerard and Wills.

The Sixth Period is from 1806 to 1881: the time of Wardens Tournay, Symons and Griffiths.

Of these Periods the first three and part of the fourth are included in the present volume.

For the First Period then (1613—1647) the documents available are:

A. The Register of Foundationers.

B. Liber sive registrum continens nomina Primorum Gardiani, Sociorum, Scholarium, Capellanorum et Clericorum Collegii Wadhami: omnium etiam Commensalium et Battelariorum a prima fundatione admissorum.

C. The College Caution Books.

M. The College Convention Books.

And these are supplemented by the University Subscription Book, University Matriculation Register, and the Lists of Graduates.

Two books containing the names of the occupants of the chambers in college are also extant for this period; but they are far from complete, and after the war began the entries are very irregular.

Of these documents the Foundation Register (A) is complete and apparently contemporaneous; B was compiled in 1636, probably by Warden Estcot: it may have been based on early Caution Books, but I can find no clue as to his authority for the lists from 1613—1636: though they correspond in part with the existing Caution Books and the University Matriculations.

The Caution Books (C) profess to date from the foundation of the college, but the entries as to Commoners and Fellow Commoners appear to be only commenced regularly from the Bursarship of Osborne and Anketill (1620—1621). I am inclined however to think that the book was first kept regularly by Bursars Estcot and Payton (1621—1622), and that all Cautions then in the Bursars' hands were prefixed to the record: at any rate the first entries as to Batellars' Cautions were made by these Bursars. The earliest note of the restoration of a Caution, apparently in Estcot's handwriting, is dated January 1621. The entries are continued steadily till 1642, after which there are no entries till 1646—1647.

The entries in the Convention Book (M) though brief are complete from the Foundation.

The University Subscription Book contains nothing but bare names; and no Matriculations are recorded at Wadham till 1615, under which year there are seven entries, just as the first volume of the Register comes to an end; from October 13th, 1615, the entries continue regularly through the other volumes. But it must be observed that during the Civil War (1642—1647) neither the College nor University Books appear to have been kept at all carefully.

With the Second Period (1647—1659) an entire change takes place in the documents available. A, which during the Civil War has become somewhat irregular is again complete, noting the decrees of the Parliamentary Visitors. B on the contrary ceases entirely. The Caution Books (C) and other College accounts were re-arranged by the intruded Fellows and kept on a new plan. Lee and Lawrence recommence entries in the Caution Book, 18 October, 1648, but it remains in great confusion till 1652. Webber and Morland (chosen Bursars 6th December, 1652) wrote out a list of all Cautions received since 1648, which still were remaining in their hands, and from this date the entries are regularly made till 1697. The records of Admission Fees commence in Lee's Bursarship (1653—54) and are continued till 1698.

The various Bursars' Books (D) now become useful, supplying lists, sometimes of Foundationers, sometimes of Officers. M ceases altogether, and regular entries are not resumed till the election of Blandford to the Wardenship in 1659: but on March 7, 1653, "It was ordered by the Society that the former Orders agreed upon at several times scattered in loose papers be registered and kept together in this book," i.e. a small vellum-covered book in which there are a few entries varying in date from 1650—1658.

The University Register of Matriculations is at this time very unsatisfactory. "From 1647 to 1649 there seems to have been no record of Matriculations at all, if indeed there were any. Thus when the Bedell appointed by the Visitors began to register Matriculations in 1649, having had no experience, nor any former book to serve as a model, he made the serious mistake of omitting to enter the age and the place of birth against the names of those who were matriculated during the period of the Commonwealth" (Burrows) In fact he seems to have only cared to note the fee paid, which as it depended on the status of the parent leads him to enter that information in his Register.

The Chamber Books also contain entries for this period; and an endeavour was made to introduce a new system of keeping this record, but it was soon dropped.

For the Third Period (1659—1689),

A continues to be well kept: but B is only kept from 1659—1668.

C. The Caution Books profess to be complete for this period.

M is kept for the whole of this period.

The Matriculation Registers of the University begin to be kept in the old form in March, $16\frac{60}{61}$.

For the Fourth Period as far as it is included in this volume (1689—1719) there is a sad lack of records, for A is only kept up to 1694, B is a blank, nor are there any entries in the Convention Book; fortunately however the Caution Books profess to be complete for this period, the only blank being from Midsummer 1697 to Christmas 1698, and even for that time there is a record of Admission fees.

Some help also can be obtained towards filling up this gap from the various Bursars' Books (D), preserved in the Muniment room.

For the First Period then (1613—1647) I have printed the names mainly as they stand in B; that is I have placed under each year the names of the Socii Commensales, Commensales and Batellarii. To these I have occasionally prefixed the name of any member of the Foundation whose admission is recorded in A and not in B.

The list thus made is supplemented by, (1) names which occur in the College Caution Books, (2) names which occur in the University Matriculation Register, (3) names of persons whose connection with the college is not otherwise recorded than that they are stated to have graduated from Wadham, (4) names which occur in the List of Pupils, the Chamber Books, the Burial Register or any other documents, and who stood in various relations to the college. I have not included the names of College servants, for I had intended to have an Appendix to contain the names of Privilegiati and Servientes.

It will be observed at once how many men entered at the college (some even as Foundationers) without graduating, and further that numbers of men appear in the College Registers without matriculating, or matriculate without being entered on the Registers, and some appear even to graduate without having matriculated: some names appear only in the Caution Books, while at the same time it is often ascertained that these men kept residence from the Chamber Books or some entry as to Battels.

It is obvious that since B has no entries for the Second Period (1647—1659) a new system must be here adopted for arranging the names. I should have chosen to adopt the order in the Caution Books, but at this time the entries are very much confused. The six intruded Fellows who with the new Warden managed the college, seem with the exception of Lee to have been hopelessly unsystematic: and Lee had an arrangement of his own which no succeeding Bursars took the trouble to carry out.

On the whole therefore, after using the Register of Foundationers (A) I propose in this period to arrange the names as they stand in the University Matriculation Book and to supplement the lists so made from the Caution Books, List of Graduates, &c.

For the early part of the Third Period, covering nearly the Wardenship of Blandford, I am able to return to the use of the College Registers, and to print the names in the order there given, supplementing them from the same sources as in the First period: but after the entries cease in B I am obliged to fall back again upon the University Matriculation Registers for the order, only prefixing to each year the names of members of the Foundation, and such others as are found in the Caution Books, but are not recorded as matriculating.

And for the Fourth Period (1689—1719) in the scarcity of College records I am almost entirely dependent on the Matriculation Registers supplemented from the Caution Books.

If therefore full information is obtained about a man, his name is followed by his status in college, and his county, and sometimes by a reference to his parentage from Register B; then comes the notice of his matriculation, given in Latin from the University Registers: next the date of his payment of Caution Money, which is sometimes "restored" to him, sometimes "taken up for Battels" and occasionally "paid over" to some Fellow, presumably his tutor or to some other person: sometimes the Caution is "replaced" and "restored" more than once: next if he became a member of the Foundation comes the notice of his admission from Register A, with a further entry as to his age and place of birth or residence, sometimes confirmatory, sometimes contradictory of the former entry: then come the dates of a man's several degrees: next, if on the Foundation his admission to a Fellowship and the College offices which he held (from M). To these are subjoined any further facts connected with his name while he was at Oxford: such as the chambers which he occupied successively, his leaves of absence &c. Where it has been possible to trace a man's subsequent career, the information has been added in small type, together with the names of any works of which he was the author; and in some cases a statement is appended showing the relationship which existed with other Wadham men, together with a reference to any pictures in the possession of the college. As this record contains the names of all men who have entered college, it will naturally be found that in many cases only one or two of the above-mentioned notices can be given: but in the cases of Members of the Foundation the record is tolerably complete. The notes as to the chambers occupied by distinguished men are interesting, as the rooms are still almost identical with those here referred to; the dates of "leave of absence" during the Civil War are fully given in order that they may be compared with the movements of the King's Army. In the matter of the restoration of Cautions too often only the day of the month is entered without the year, and even if the Bursar's name be added it is often impossible to say to which of his periods of office the entry is to be referred.

In conclusion, let me express a hope that this record will show that the "Foundation of Nicholas Wadham and Dorothy his wife" has not fallen short of the end which they set before them when they established a College "for the glory and honour of Almighty God, the promotion of sound learning and the advantage of this realm."

ABBREVIATIONS.

In a work of this kind it is unnecessary to explain the ordinary contractions of University records, but the following observations must be noted.

The letters ℱ. and 𝔖. must be read Fellow or Fellowship, Scholar or Scholarship.

𝔓. Probationer Fellow.
ℱ. ℭ. Fellow Commoner.
ℭ. Commoner.
𝔅. Batellar.
𝔐. Matriculated.
ℭ.𝔐. Caution Money.
Goodridge Exhibitions. Four Commoners and three Scholars were chosen annually to receive these.
s.p. sine prole; s.p.m. sine prole mascula.
v.p. vita patris.

Register A is the Foundationer's Register.
B is the Commoner's Register.
C stands for the Caution Books.
D stands for the Bursars' Accounts.
M stands for the Minutes in the Convention Books.

O.H.S. refers to the publications of the Oxford Historical Society.

With regard to dates, it must be remembered that, according to the Old Style, the year began on 25th March; so that for the first three months of a year a double date is often used: while sometimes the entries were made according to the Old Style, and sometimes according to the New. These irregularities have been carefully observed. When ? is attached to a date, it is a conjecture of the Editor's.

Similarly the names of places have been printed as written; sometimes strange names like Autre (i.e. Ottery), Sebaru (i.e. Seaburrow), have been successfully identified; sometimes a conjecture is offered (with ?); but frequently the name remains obscure. It must be remembered that these names were taken down by a Bedell from the lips of an uncouth boy who pronounced in his county dialect, and often gave the name of a hamlet or manor as his native place, all trace of which has since disappeared from maps and records.

Warden Wright.

Robert Wright was born at St. Albans, Herts, and M. at Trinity College in 1574 (Hartford. pleb. fil. an. nat. 14): on 7 June of the same year he was elected S. being then aged 15. Having graduated B.A. 23 June, 1580, he was elected F. 25 May, 1581. His subsequent degrees were M.A. 7 July, 1584; B.D. 6 April, 1592; D.D. 2 July, 1597. Rector of Woodford, Essex (15 Aug. 1589 to 16 Nov. 1619). He became Rector of Brixton Deverell, Wilts, 29 Nov. 1596, and Chaplain to Queen Elizabeth; Rector of Bourton on the Water, Glouc.; Rector of Hayes, Middlesex, 4 April, 1601; Canon Residentiary and Treasurer of Wells, 21 Dec. 1601; Vicar of Sonning, Berks, 13 June, 1604, Chaplain in Ordinary to King James I. On April 20, 1613, he was admitted First Warden of Wadham, but resigned 20 July, 1613.

He afterwards held the living of Rattingdon, Essex (1619), and on 22 March, 1622, was consecrated Bishop of Bristol; he was translated to Lichfield and Coventry in 1632, when he resigned his preferment at Wells. He died at his house of Eccleshall, in Staffordshire in Aug. or Sep. 1643, while it was besieged by Sir William Breerton. Gutch says, "In one of the windows of the outer chapel is this inscription:

'Robertus Wright Sacræ Theologiæ
Professor: Ecclesiæ Cathedralis Wellen:
Thesaurarius Canonicus Re
sidentiarius, quondam Collegii
Trinitatis Socius et Primus
Hujus Collegii Gardianus,'

with the arms of Wright, Party per pale, Or and Argent, on a chevron azure between three Boars' heads couped sable as many bezants, and in a scroll, 'Anno Domini, 1615'": which glass is still preserved in the College Library, but the arms and scroll are missing. His portrait is in the College Hall: for his son Calvert Wright, see 1634.

He was subsequently Rector of Tredington, Worc., to which he had been presented 31 May, 1629 (State Papers, Domestic, Vol. clxiii. 38), and Prebendary of Worcester, 23 May, 1638. He died 6 May, 1658, and was buried in Speechly Church near Worcester, with this epitaph:

He was of the parish of St. Mary Magdalen, Taunton, and was born 4 Oct. 1582. Walker (Sufferings II. 681) says that he was deprived of his preferments, and subsequently lived in Oriel College. His portrait hangs in the College Hall.

John Goodridge, (Goodrigge, Goodrich). M. Balliol 20 Jan. 159$\frac{7}{8}$ (Devon. pleb. fil. an. nat. 17). B.A. 13 Feb. 160$\frac{1}{2}$; M.A. (Gloucester Hall) 30 Jan. 1606, admitted to practise medicine 30 June, 1618. Nominated by the Foundress as Dean in 1613, Bursar in 1614 and 1617, and succeeded William Smith as Sub-Warden 24 March 161$\frac{8}{7}$. After the death of the Foundress he was elected Sub-Warden 1620, 1627, 1630: Dean 1618: Bursar 1619, 1623, 1625, 1328: Humanity Lecturer 1622: Moderator of Philosophy 1626: and Librarian 1621, 1629. On 20 June, 1631, having completed eighteen years as F. he was "amotus virtute interpretationis Rev. in Xto patris Arthuri (Lake), Epi Bath. et Wellen. in statutum de tempore ejusmodi gradus." He lived in the South Crest, the whole furniture of which together with that of its three Studies he gave to the College in 1631.

He was of the parish of Uffculme, Devon. He subsequently became Gresham Professor of Rhetoric (6 Nov. 1638), and Warden of Lord Northampton's (Trinity) Hospital at Greenwich, where he died in November, 1654, bequeathing property to the College for the foundation of Exhibitions, &c. His Will is dated 25 Nov. and proved 9 Dec. 1654. The account of his funeral charges dated 29 Nov. 1654, is among the Wardens MSS., and the accounts of his estate were audited 26 Mar. 1655. Certain questions having arisen as to the meaning of his Will, they were settled in the Wardenship of Ironsyde, 30 July, 1668; and the following sentence is prefixed to the decision. "Hæres est eadem persona in jure cum defuncto et jure voluntatem Testatoris (? declarat); et tenet declaratio per hæredem facta quando alteris non est damnosa neque tendit ad proprium commodum." Further, an appeal was made in 1718 to the "Four Wardens of the Mercers' Company in London," who by a clause in John Goodridge's Will, were appointed to determine its meaning; and they decided that in the election of Exhibitioners the Warden should have two votes, and if thereby there was an equal number of votes, and it was not agreed before sunset that he should make such choice for that turn as he should think fit (3 Oct. 1718). His portrait is in the Warden's Lodgings, and in the Hall.

Edward Brunckard (Brounker). M. St. Edmund Hall, 16 July, 1603 (Wilton: eq. fil. æt. 14, but in the College Register (B) he is described as Londinensis, and placed 4th F. after Pitt. B.A. 1 July, 1606; M.A. 3 May, 1609; B.D. 14 Dec. 1618; D.D. 23 May, 1620. Nominated by the Foundress as First Bursar 1613, and again 1614, as Catechist 1613, and Sub-Warden 1617. Resigned his F. previous to the election on 30 June, 1621. Chaplain to the King.

Wood (M.S.) describes him of the parish of St. Booe (i.e. ? St. Mary le Bow), Middlesex. There is another Edward Brunkar who M. at Gloucester Hall, 14 June, 1605 (Buckingham. pleb. fil. æt. 15).

John Pitt (Pytte, Pitts). M. Magdalen Hall, 29 July, 1603 (Somerset. pleb. fil. æt. 19). B.A. 31 May, 1606; M.A. (Magd.) 6 May, 1609; D.D. 24 March, 1645 by virtue of the Chancellor's letters. Nominated by the Foundress first Dean 1613, and 1616, and 1617; Greek Reader (i.e. Humanity Lecturer) 1613; Catechist 1614; Bursar 1615. Subsequently elected Sub-Warden 1619, 1623, 1626; Bursar 1618, 1622, 1624; and Catechist 1625. Resigned his F. 3 July, 1628. Elected Warden 13 April, and admitted on 25 April, 1644. On 1 Aug. 1644, he had leave of absence till Christmas, which was extended on 6 Dec. to 25 April, 1645. On 30 June it was ordered that he should have the garden on the same terms as the late Warden. Having taken a prominent part in preparing the reply to Parliament, he was removed from the Wardenship 3 March, 164$\frac{7}{8}$, and ejected by the Visitors 13 April, 1648. For the four questions propounded by Order to Dr. Pitt see Burrows' Visitors' Register, page 11.

He died soon after at or near Ile Abbots, Somerset, where he was born. He was Rector of Blandford St. Mary, Dorset, which living was sequestered in 1645. In April 1647 he was appointed Rector or Prebendary of Chardstock, to be held with the Rectory of South Brendon, Somerset.

Matthew Osborne. M. New College 23 March, 159$\frac{8}{9}$ (Devon. pleb. fil. æt. 16). B.A. 20 Feb. 160$\frac{5}{6}$; M.A.

(Oriel) 21 June, 1610; B.D. 1 Dec. 1627; Admitted ℱ. 8 June, 1613, and placed fifth on the list. Nominated the first Humanity Reader 1613; Bursar 1613 and 1617; Dean 1614; Catechist 1616. Subsequently elected Sub-Warden 1618, 1621, 1624, 1628; Dean 1619; Bursar 1620, 1622, 1625, 1627, 1629. Humanity Reader 1623; Catechist 1626. On 10 July, 1613, he signed the stipulation for Battels on behalf of nine pupils. Proctor of the University, 28 April, 1620. On 20 June, 1631, he was "amotus," having completed eighteen years as ℱ. (see under Goodridge).

Wood says he was of Christow, Devon. He was instituted Rector of Maiden Newton, Dorset, 1638; was sequestered but survived the Restoration, and was restored to his living; but it was vacant in 1661 by Osborne's death, when he was succeeded by William Huish, see 1641. The Parish Register contains the following entry: "Mr. Osborne, M.A., who was unjustly turned out by the Rumpish Triers, and afterwards restored by the just hand of Providence. Mr. Brumhall, his base and unworthy successor, put in by yt scandalous party and turned out by God Almighty." (Hutchins, II. 689.)

James Harington. 𝔐. Hart Hall 11 Oct. 1605 (Rutland. militis fil. æt. 17). The entry is Joannes H. in the Matriculation Registers, but it is James in the Subscription Book. B.A. 23 April, 1608; M.A. 1 Feb. 16$\frac{1}{11}$. He was nominated first Bursar in 1613, and again 1615; and was elected Catechist 1618 and Bursar 1619. He preached the sermon in Latin at the consecration of the chapel 29 April, 1613. On 20 July, 1613, he signed the stipulation for Battels on behalf of four pupils. On 10 Oct. 1627, he was deprived of his ℱ. because he confessed that he was possessed of an annual pension of £40. He had already (26 April, 1627) appealed to Laud, then Bishop of Bath and Wells, the Visitor of the College, to determine the matter, who summoned the Warden and some of the Fellows to London; but when they appeared, Harington was absent, having returned to Oxford with a Commission granted by the King to examine witnesses upon oath; whereupon the Visitor suspended his ℱ. till his cause was tried, for which the hearing was fixed for 10 Jan. at the Bishop's house at Westminster. Meanwhile in a letter of 10 Dec. 1627, the Visitor informs the Society that his statement that he had obtained the Commission with the Visitor's consent is "altogether untrue, and that the King in accordance with the Bishop's request has graciously recalled the Commission, and is not well pleased that he should be abused by an illgrounded petition"; meanwhile Harington's suspension is taken off. When the case came to be heard Harington pleaded that he had received a dispensation from the Foundress to retain his ℱ. in spite of his pension, and produced Fellows, Pytt, Payton, Osborne, Goodridge, and Brouncker (Jan. 14, 16$\frac{27}{28}$), who declared that James (Mountague), Bishop of Bath and Wells had signified the same to Warden Flemmyng by letters (which letters Harington seems to have accused Warden Smith of destroying); further the Foundress had nominated him Bursar after he acquired the property by the death of his uncle. Finally the Visitor decided that the presumption was in Harington's favour, and restored him to his ℱ., but required him to make his submission to the Warden, and fined him twenty marks in accordance with the request of the Warden and Fellows, who state that their proceedings against Mr. Harington "have been without spleen," but desire that the Visitor will at any rate award that Harington pay the College charges, amounting to £23 6*s.* 2*d.* And in a letter of 30 Jan. 16$\frac{27}{28}$, the Bishop gives his reasons for the punishment, and gently suggests that documents of importance should be more carefully preserved. On 22 Feb. 16$\frac{27}{28}$, the Warden notifies the Visitor that Harington is still obstinate, and on 31 March, 1628, the Warden notifies the Visitor that Harington still refuses to make the required submission, and is uttering threats against the Visitor; this was followed by a letter of apology from Harington (1 April) with promise of submission, but on 16 April the Warden writes again that Harington has not satisfactorily complied with the Visitor's orders, and encloses the evidence of Goodridge and Escott as to Harington's violent language. On 21 April Harington again wrote to the Visitor to obtain a remission of a part of his penalty.

(State Papers, Domestic. Sub anno.) Harington however appears to have persisted in reviling the Fellows generally, and the Warden in particular, so that on 1 Aug. 1629, he was deprived of all the advantages of his ff. for six months. On 12 July, 1631, he was "amotus" having completed his eighteen years.

It appears from a MS. in the College of Arms that he was fourth son of Sir James Harington of Ridlington, Rutland. His brother, Sir Edward Harington married Margery, daughter and coheiress of John D'Oyley of Merton, Oxon.; while her sister Ann married Sir Thomas Gower of Stittenham, for whose son "Tom" see the Fellow Commoners of 1616, where there is a reference to your "unkell Harrington." He was still unmarried in 1634.

Henry Ancktill (Ancketyll). m. University College, 8 Nov. 1605 (Dorcestr. arm. fil. æt. 17). B.A. (University) 19 June, 1609; M.A. 10 July, 1612; created D.D. 16 Jan. 1642 (in Wood's MSS. the name appears as Amptill). Nominated first Catechist 1613, and also Bursar 1613 and 1616, to which office he was again elected 1620. On 15 July, 1613, he signed the stipulation for Battels on behalf of four pupils. On 2 Dec. 1617, he obtained the Foundress' permission to travel for three years, and enjoy all the benefits of his ff. He resigned his ff. 14 Dec. 1621, and before 1623 married Jane, daughter of Thomas Hussey of Shapwick (Visitation).

He was third son of Christopher Anketill of East Almer and Stour Provost; and was baptised at St. James, Shaftesbury, 17 March, 1587. Rector of Mells, Somerset, and Prebendary of Wells, 13 April, 1639. He took a prominent part in the Civil War; was Governor of Corfe Castle for the king, and was known among the Roundheads as "Colonel Anketell, the Priest and malignant Doctor." He is said to have died before the Restoration. He appears to have been in some points the original of Dr. Rochecliffe in Scott's Woodstock.

Daniel Estcot. m. Exeter 14 Oct. 1608 (Devon. pleb. fil. æt. 18). B.A. (Exeter) 4 Nov. 1611; M.A. (Wadham) 5 July, 1614; created D.D. 31 Aug. 1636. Nominated Humanity Lecturer 1619; Sub-Warden 1622, 1625, 1629, 1631; and Librarian 1624 and 1627. He was "amotus" 14 July, 1634, having completed eighteen years from his M.A., but elected Warden on 7 July, 1635, when he gave up his Chamber, the third Upper Chamber from the Chapel, otherwise Foundresse Chamber. He died April, 1644, and was buried in the East End of the Inner Chapel on the 12th of the same month. His Will, dated 7 April with codicil dated 9 April, 1644, was proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 17 July, 1646. He served as Proctor in 1624; "for the election of which Proctors was the greatest canvas (as 'twas thought) in the memory of man." There were four candidates, and Estcot headed the poll (which was kept open till after nine at night), with 255 votes (see Wood's Fasti I. 414).

He was of the parish of Sampford Peverell, Devon.

Humphrey Sydenham. M. Exeter College, Lent Term, 1606: Somerset. according to Wood, but no record is found. B.A. (Exeter) 24 Jan. 16$\frac{10}{11}$; M.A. 3 Dec. 1613. He was the first person who took his M.A. from Wadham College. Incorporated M.A. of Cambridge, 1625. Elected Catechist 1620 and 1621; Librarian 1623; and Moderator of Philosophy 1624. On 20 July, 1613, he signed the stipulation for Battels for one pupil. On 22 March, 1618, he had incurred "scandalosam excommunicationem," and was punished accordingly. He resigned his F. 3 July, 1628.

He was son of Humphrey Sydenham and Jane Champneys; born at Dulverton. Ordained Priest in 1621, and presented to the Vicarage of Ashbrittle, Somerset, 1627, and to the Vicarage of Pucklington, Somerset, 1630. He was Chaplain to Lord Howard of Escrick; Rector of Odcombe (Dec. 1644); and Prebendary of Wedmore Tertia in Wells Cathedral. He was deprived of his livings by the Parliamentary Commissioners for Somersetshire; and died in Somersetshire about 1650, and was buried at Dulverton. "He was a person of a quaint and curious stile, better at practical than at School Divinity, and was so eloquent and fluent a preacher, that he was commonly called silver-tongued Sydenham." He was the author of three volumes of sermons, published respectively in 1627, 1630, and 1637.

Richard Puleston. M. Hart Hall 16 Oct. 1607 (Oxon. gen. fil. æt. 16). B.A. 28 Jan. 16$\frac{10}{11}$; M.A. 3 Dec. 1613; B.D. 28 Nov. 1620; D.D. 4 July, 1627. Nominated Moderator of Philosophy 1614, and Humanity Lecturer 1616. He signed the stipulation for Battels on behalf of two pupils on 20 July, 1613. Resigned his F. on 3 June, 1619, when he is described as "promotus ad honorem."

He was born at Bircote, in the parish of Dorchester, Oxon. Father of Hamlet Puleston, 1647.

"He was a learned D.D. and parson of Abbots Worthy, Hants." (Wood.)

Francis Strode. M. Broadgate Hall 30 Oct, 1607 (Devon. gen. fil. æt. 18). B.A. 25 Jan. 16$\frac{10}{11}$; M.A. 5 July, 1614. Nominated by the Foundress Sub-Dean 1613; Humanity Lecturer 1614; and Catechist 1615. In 1624 he was elected Bursar; Dean 1625; Moderator of Philosophy 1627. He signed the stipulation for Battels on behalf of one pupil 24 July, 1613. On 8 Dec. 1628, he resigned his F.

"He was of Taunton, Somerset." (Wood.)

One Francis Strode was Vicar of Bishops Teignton, 16 Feb. 1627, and Vicar of Ideford, Devon, 1628, till 1674.

Ralph Flexney. M. Oriel 6 Oct. 1607 (Oxon. gen. fil. æt. 19). B.A. 21 Jan. 16$\frac{10}{11}$; M.A. 3 Dec. 1613. Nominated Moderator of Philosophy 1615; and Catechist 1617; and elected Librarian 1618; and Dean 1620. He signed the stipulation for the payment of Battels on behalf of one pupil 24 July, 1613. No notice exists of his vacating his F., but he gave up his rooms (in Foundress Chamber, the third Upper Chamber from the Chapel) in 1623, when T. Porter appears to have been elected in his place.

He was son of Thomas Flexney, and was baptised at St. Michael's, Oxford, 7 Nov. 1587.

Thomas Harris. ℳ. Exeter 14 Dec. 1610 (Oxon. pleb. fil. æt. 16). B.A. 4 May, 1612. Although the stipulation for the payment of Battels is found in his hand, he does not appear to have had any pupils. He was nominated to his ℱ. by the City of Oxford, in accordance with a stipulation made in the agreement by which the city sold the site of Augustine Friars to the Foundress. He died and was buried in the north part of the outward Chapel near his monument 5 June, 1614 (Carfax Register notes his burial on 2 June). He has a marble monument on the North Wall of the Ante-Chapel. "Epitaphium doctissimi religiosissimique juvenis Thomæ Harris Artium Baccalaurei et hujus Coll. Socii inter primos ab ipso conditore electi."

"Hæc juvenem tenet urna brevis qui tempore vitæ
Tam bene percurrit, quam cito; dignus erat,
Inter nos vixisse diu, nisi quod mage dignus
Inter felices vivere Cœlicolas.
Obiit 5 Junii, 1614."

The Foundress in a letter of 27 June, 1614, recommending Huish to succeed to Harris's ℱ. remarks on "his death which (if it had pleased God) for the good I have heard of him I could have wished otherwise."

Son of Thomas Harrys, of Carfax parish, i.e., St. Martins, Oxford. Ayloff says, "son of Francis Harris, a Vintner;" but it is to be noted that Thomas Harris was Mayor of Oxford when the Foundation stone was laid in 1610.

William Payton. ℳ. Trinity 16 Oct. 1607 (Gloucestr. pleb. fil. æt. 18). B.A. 17 Feb. 16$\frac{11}{12}$; M.A. 5 July, 1614; B.D. 2 June, 1627. On 2 Aug. 1613 he signed the stipulation for Battels on behalf of one pupil. He first lived in the fourth Upper Chamber from the Hall which he gave over to Mr. Boswell; subsequently in the fourth Upper Chamber from the Chapel in which he was succeeded by Mr. Warren. At the Visitation of 17 July, 1633, he was removed from among the five Seniors "till the Warden restore him"; and on 19 Nov. 1633, he resigned his ℱ. He appears to have held the Vicarage of Southrop with his ℱ., for there is a note in the Chamber Book, "of all such things as were given by him unto the College for the use of the Vicar's successors at his Vicarage of Southrop, 13 April, 1632." On 4 Feb. 1632, he was admitted to the Rectory of Frierning, and probably held it till the next recorded appointment in 1657.

Said to have been "of Henton (? Hempton) Glouc.

John Swaddell. Somerset. No 𝔐. or admission is found, and he was not a graduate at the time of his nomination to a ℱ. B.A. 2 July, 1616. M.A. 24 April, 1619. Resigned his ℱ. previous to 30 June, 1617, having never held any College office, and was succeeded by Hext.

He was of Puddimore (Podimore) Milton. Hester, daughter of Dr. Philip Bisse, the donor of the Library, married a Swaddell.

Chaplains.

Thomas Randolph. M.A. of Cambridge, incorporated at Oxford, 10 July, 1610. He was admitted Chaplain at the opening of the College, 20 April, 1613; but had ceased to be Chaplain before 17 June, 1617.

B.A. 160⁸⁄₉. M.A. 1610. He ceased to be Scholar in 1611. When M.A. he was admitted ℱ.𝔈. of Caius 29 Nov. 1611, aged twenty-four. He became a ℱ. 1613, but vacated his ℱ. 1621. From Michaelmas 1614 to Midsummer 1616 he was Rhetoric and Greek Reader successively.

Gilbert Stokes (Stoakes). 𝔐. Hart Hall 22 Nov. 1605 (Devon. gen. fil. æt. 19). B.A. 19 Nov. 1608. M.A. 28 May, 1611. He was created B.D. 23 June, 1646 (with two others who preached before King Charles I.), "non fuit concionator sed omnia exercitia gradui requi-sita paravit." He was admitted Chaplain at the opening of the College 20 April, 1613, and Wood says that he was Junior Chaplain, which agrees with the Register of admissions to the Foundation. On 9 Aug. 1615, the Foundress directed the Fellows to admit him to their table. He remained Chaplain till the Visitation of the Parliamentary Commissioners in 1648, when his answer was: "I doe submitt to the authoritie of the high Court of Parliament in this Visitation." He died 16 Oct. 1654, aged 71, and was buried in the College Chapel, where there was a stone, "Gilbert Stokes, S. T. P. ob. 16 Oct. 1654.

Rector of Chilton Cantlow, in the diocese of Wells. Wood says of him that he was "an indefatigable student in philosophy and theology, and a continual disputant even to the last among the Juniors in the time of Lent" (Fasti, II. 92), also, "he had written much but published nothing; he left behind him a book in Latin on the Eucharist."

Scholars.

Nicholas Brewen (Bruen). M. 28 June, 1616 (Nicolas Bruden, Dorcestr. gen. fil. æt. 20). B.A. 2 July, 1616. M.A. 4 May, 1619. Elected F. 7 Nov. 1617 vice Flavell; he held no College offices. On 13 May, 1620, he had leave to travel for three years, from the 27th of the same month, provided that he did not visit Rome. He resigned his F. 25 March, 1625.

Probably third son of Henry Brun of Athelhampton described in Visitation of 1623 as "cælebs:" but Wood says that he was of Puddletown, Devon.

Dr. Boswell occupied Middle Hall Chamber 24 March, 1646, and also the "Comicall Chamber" (which would appear to be the same as "the neather half chamber next the Hall"), and also the Manciple's Chamber: and a Dr. Bosvill appears to be still holding Rooms in College in 1653.

He was the son of Alderman William Boswell of All Saints, Oxford. He was an advocate in the Court of Arches. Wood says that "he was a learned civilian, afterwards High Sheriff of Oxfordshire (about 1652); dying unmarried 5 April, 1678, he was buried in All Saints Church, Oxford, near the grave of his father. In the College MSS. he is stated to have been buried in the north part of the Outer Chapel in October (day not given) 1617.

Wood says that "he was aged 14, and a native of Bishop's Lyddiard." "John Flavell soon became the forwardest youth in that house (i.e. Trinity College), for his quick and smart disputations in logic and philosophy. The Foundress having been often told of the pregnancy of his parts made him one of the first scholars. He made himself very useful among the Juniors by his frequent reading of logic lectures, and presiding in philosophical disputations in the public refectory. He was esteemed a good Greek and Latin poet, and was Senior of the Act in 1617, and was chosen Public Professor of Grammar in the University, in which faculty he was excellent, and took great delight. He died in the flower of his youth on 10 Nov. 1617." Wood, Ath. O. II. p. 207. He was the author of Tractatus de Demonstratione, methodicus et polemicus. Edited after his death by Alex. In a letter of the 27 June, 1614, the Foundress recommends Huish for the vacant F. in preference to Flavell or Tapper; and he was never elected F., but remained S. till 30 June, 1629, when he resigned, having apparently retained his rooms in College in the North Bay (the present Warden's Lodgings) till 1627 or 1628.

Alexander Huish (Hewis). Subscribed the Articles 23 April, 1613, having been admitted to his S. on 20 April (Somerset.). He was one of the editors of the Polyglott Bible, and esteemed one of the most considerable men in Europe in all parts of learning, especially the knowledge of the Oriental languages. He was a great sufferer by the Rebellion (Collinson's Somerset, II. 201). Wood adds that "after the Restoration he was restored to what he had before, and on 12 Sept. 1660 was collated to the Prebend of White Lackington in Wells Cathedral. He was a person well read in the Fathers, a noted critic, a good linguist, and a solid and sober divine. At length having lived beyond the age of man, and done extraordinary benefit for the common good, he died about April, 1668." Besides assisting in editing the Polyglott Bible he was the author of Lectures on the Lord's Prayer, London, 1636, and edited the posthumous work of his Wadham contemporary, John Flavell, 1619.

At Michaelmas, 1621, he became Under Usher of St. Paul's School under his father, which post he held till Michaelmas, 1628, in which year he was involved in considerable trouble in consequence of reckless expressions with regard to the King and the Duke of Buckingham (see Wood's Ath. Ox. III. 42, and State Papers, Domestic, cxvi. &c.), and was condemned to degradation and severe punishment by the Star Chamber. This however he escaped at the supplication of his father, and on his father's death, he was elected High Master of St. Paul's School, 18 Nov. 1635. In 1640 he was removed from his post for excessive severity, and shortly afterwards died in 1642, and was buried at St. Botolph without Aldersgate. When his grace for M.A. was granted (18 June), it is stated that he was Chaplain; he must not be confounded with Robert Arnold the Scholar, who was his junior by two or three years. He probably succeeded Randolph in the Chaplaincy; perhaps in consequence of prolonged absence, for on 23 May, 1616, the Foundress writes, "whereas the Chapleyne's place is paineful and troublesome beyond others, when one is absent the whole allowance of both shall be due to the one present." He appears to have ceased to be Chaplain by 1620, and to have been succeeded by Timothy Basil.

Anthony Hunt. Pupil of Henry Anketill, 15 July, 1613. There is a Hunt of Wadham among the determining Bachelors of 1626-27, but it can hardly have been this man. "Hunt's tankerde" (18½ oz.) was among the plate sacrificed in 1642.

On 27 June, 1614, he was appointed to fill the vacancy created by Huish's election to Harris' F., "if ready," which he presumably was, as he has leave of absence on 20 July, 1616. His name occurs twice in the M. books, 3 Nov. 1615, P. H. (Somerset. Stæ. Theol. Doct. fil. æt. 13), and 8 Nov, 1616, P. H. (Somerset. Doct. fil. æt. 16. William Durham. On 30 Oct. 1618, a letter was sent by King James I. to "Our trustie and welbeloved the Warden and Fellowes of Waddam College in Oxford, from our Mannour of Theobaldes," desiring them to admit William Durhame, "having almost from his infancy followed the studdie of letters as he hath atteyned to the degree of Maister in Artes," to a Fellowship whenever any Fellow's place shall be void; "notwithstanding anie thing in your statutes to the contrarie." The College in two successive letters, 29 Nov. 1618, and 3 Jan. $16\frac{18}{19}$, begged the interference of William, Earl of Pembroke, Lord Chamberlain of the King's Household, and Chancellor of the University; in the first they point out that William Durham is ineligible under the Statutes, and send therewith two of the Fellows to explain; in the second they set out the legal objections at length. A portion of a narrative in Latin of the attempt of "William Durham, the Scot," to obtain a Fellowship is among the College MSS., from which it appears that William Durham was "Andreapolitanus," and that as the King had himself altered the words, "Kingdom of England" to "Kingdom of Great Britain" in the Statutes, it was feared that he might be angered by the refusal of the College to admit a Scot. The narrative is not finished: but it is clear that the attempt was not successful.

His answer to the Visitors under date 12 May, 1648, is as follows: "I hope noe man since hee cannot finde in my life past whence to censure me, greedy to find faults that hee will rake my owne brest to confesse that which noe man accuse me of neither doe I myselfe yet know, viz.: what I possibly shall doe hereafter this when I shall be commaunded that which I yet never heard of." On 15 May, 1648, the Committee resolved that Mr. Lionel Pine of Wadham College did not submit; whereupon he was expelled the University by "the Committee of Lords and Commons for regulating the University of Oxford," which order

His name occurs among those reported to the Committee of Lords and Commons by the Visitors 14 July, 1648; but he must have submitted subsequently as he retained his ℣. and regularly received his dividends, but probably was not in favour with the intruded Fellows, as he does not appear to hold important offices till he signs as Sub-Warden 7 Dec. 1655, and Bursar 21 Dec. 1656. On 3 Sept. 1659, John Wilkins resigned the Wardenship, and on 5 Sept. Blandford was elected Warden; created D.D. 1 Aug. 1660, Vice-Chancellor 1662, 1663.

He was at one time Chaplain to John, Lord Lovelace of Hurley, a strong Cavalier; and tutor to his son. Consecrated Bishop of Oxford in New College Chapel 3 Dec. 1665, resigning the Wardenship on the following day. He became Dean of the Chapel Royal, and was translated to the See of Worcester 13 June, 1671. He died 9 July, 1675, and was buried in Worcester Cathedral with this epitaph:

H. S. I.

Ab Academiæ gubernaculo ad ecclesiæ clavum (quæque anceps magis procuratio) ad conscientiæ principis regimen evocatus, muneribus omnibus par, quasi unico impenderetur. Nimirum eruditione recondita Academiam, sanctissima prudentia diœcesim, illibata pietate aulam illustrabat. Donec perpetuis laboribus et morbo diutino (quem invicta animi constantia toleraverat), confectus facultatibus suis Deo, ecclesiæ, pauperibus distributis, summo bonorum omnium luctu animam cœlo reddidit. Jul. XVI. A.D. MDCLXXV. ætatis LIX.

Gutch says that he bequeathed £200 to the College. His portrait hangs in the College Hall.

Lived in College Chamber. He was among those reported to the Committee of Lords and Commons for non-submission to the Visitors, 14 July, 1648; and is recorded on 2 Oct. among those deprived upon the Order of the Committee. On 27 June, 1653, he petitioned the Visitors that he might be restored to his place; the hearing of his case was deferred till the first Monday in Sept., and presumably his petition was rejected. In 1660 he obtained a mandamus for his restoration, on the ground that he was unjustly expelled for non-submission to the Visitation; but the Warden and Fellows replied that the intruders were now gone, and their places filled up, so that, though willing, they had no vacancy. On this he obtained an order from William, Marquis of Hertford the Chancellor (apparently acting as Visitor), directing the College to reinstate him forthwith, and give him his just privileges and seniority. He received dividends in 1661; and was elected Librarian in 1660, 1661, 1666, 1670; Bursar 1664, 1665, 1668, 1671; Sub-Warden 1667. He died 15 Oct. 1676, "aged

As far as age goes this might be Sir William Petty, who was born 26 March, 1623, but Wood says that he was of Rumsey, Hants, and gives no hint that he was ever at Oxford before 1647. For the life and works of Sir William Petty, see Wood, Ath. Ox. iv. 214. He was direct ancestor of the Marquess of Lansdowne.

Edward Windham. Ordered to be created M.A. (Wadham) by Royal Warrant 16 Jan. 16$\frac{42}{43}$.

Perhaps identical with Edmund Windham 1619.

George Strangewaies. Created M.A. (Wadham) 16 Jan. 16$\frac{42}{43}$.

"An officer, one of the ancient and genteel family of his name in Dorsetshire." Wood.

Probably third son of Thomas Strangewaies of Winterborne Muston, aged 12 in 1623. (Hutchins, I. 149).

Thomas Baker. Elected S. 1642, according to the Convention Book under date 17 April, 1645, when he was admitted "cujus tamen admissio per civiles regni discordias in hoc tempus dilata fuit," on which statement Dr. Griffith, formerly Warden, made the following note, dated 20 Oct. 1875: "It seems to me that this entry is erroneous in stating that Thomas Baker was chosen in 1642, and that he was not chosen till 1643, because (1) after very careful scrutiny I cannot find more than one Scholarship vacant at the election of 1642, when Warre, B.A., seems to have made a vacancy, and W. Jermyn was elected. (2) Baker after his admission is several times mentioned after Shepheard but before Huish, who appear to have been elected, with Hall and Estcott, in 1643," which agrees with the following entry in the Admission Register: "Allegavit se per duos plus minus abhinc annos, annum tum ætatis decimum octavum agentem tempore consueto electionis infra dictum Coll.

per Gard. et aliquot dicti Coll. socios competentes in Scholarem dicto Coll. collegiate fuisse electum et post electionem cum consensu dicti Gard. et sine venia speciali primo habita in Com. Somersett. profectum fuisse; sed ita multum catervis et rebellium armatorum impetu impeditum fuisse ut ad hoc Coll. accedere et admissionis suæ beneficium petere tuto ante hoc tempus non potuit." M. Magd. Hall, 8 May, 1640. (Somerset. fil. Jacobi B. de Ilton, pleb. æt. 15). B.A. 10 April 1647. He had leave of absence from 11 Nov. 1645 till Christmas; 30 Dec. till Easter; 30th March, 1646, till 29 June; 30 June till Michaelmas, and 6 Dec. Admitted P. on 6 Aug. 1647. On 14 July, 1648, he was reported by the Visitors to the Committee of Lords and Commons, and presumably deprived. He appears in the Bursar's Books with three quarters' stipend as S. in arrear at Christmas, 1648.

He did "some little pettite service for his Majesty in the garrison at Oxford," and subsequently became minister of Bishops Nympton, Devon, "where he lived many years in a most retired and studious condition in carrying on his profound knowledge in the mathematical faculty, yet not known or valued in the neighbourhood for his great knowledge till this book was by him published, 'The Geometrical Key, or the Gate of Equations unlocked,' London, 1684." He died 6 June, 1690, and was buried in Bishops Nympton Church. He received a medal from the Royal Society, with an inscription full of respect. Wood, Ath. IV. 286.

Daniel Estcott. Elected S. apparently in 1643. M. 24 Oct. 1645 (pleb. fil. æt. 18, serviens added in another hand). B.A. 16 Dec. 1648. M.A. 27 July, 1650. He had leave of absence on 14 Dec. 1643 till Easter; 20 April, 1644; 2 July till Christmas; 24 Dec. till Easter; 7 April, 1645, till 29 June; 30 June till Michaelmas; 11 Nov. till Christmas; 30 Dec. till Easter; 30 March, 1646, till 29 June; 30 June till Michaelmas, and 6 Dec. On 14 July, 1648, he was reported by the Visitors to the Committee of Lords and Commons for not submitting, and appears in the Bursar's Book with three quarters' stipend as S. in arrear at Christmas, 1648. Apparently he was not deprived, as he appears among the Scholars in 1650, and on 29 May, 1651, the following order was made by the Committee for the Reformation of the Universities: "Whereas it appears to this Committee that there is a ℱ. now voyde in Wadham College, and this Committee have not yet declared the said College to be in a statutable way of making their own elections: It is therefore ordered that Daniel Estcott, Master in Arts, and 𝔖. of the said College, who this day produced a certificate of his piety and sufficiency in learning to this Committee, be ℱ. of the said College, and shall receive all profits and privileges thereof, to all intents and purposes; and the Warden, or Senior ℱ. resident in the said College, is required forthwith to admit him accordingly. James Chaloner, William Say, Richard Darley, Robert Brewster, Gilbert Millington." In pursuance of which order he was admitted ℱ. 9 July, 1651. He was Humanity Lecturer in 1653. Sub-Warden in Nov. 1654 and Jan. 16$\frac{54}{55}$. Bursar in July 1656 and Jan. 16$\frac{58}{59}$. On Dec. 6, 1659, when elections are again recorded in the old manner, he was elected Sub-Warden. Bursar in 1660. Dean 1661. He was nominated B.D. 12 Sep. 1661, but was not present; he took the degree 7 May, 1662. Lived in the South Bay Window, and as M.A. had the First Upper Chamber from the Hall with a Cockloft.

Wood says that he was nephew of the Warden Estcott, and speaks of him as "of Exeter City." Rector of Dunchideock, 13 March, 16$\frac{62}{63}$; Canon of Exeter, 17 Sept. 1663, and within two years Archdeacon. He was buried in Exeter Cathedral 30 March, 1668.

William, Earl of Bedford. ℱ.𝔈. 15 Oct. 1643

Eldest son of Francis (Russell) 4th Earl of Bedford of that family, created Knight of the Bath at the Coronation of Charles I., succeeded his father 9 May, 1641. On the breaking out of the Civil War he was made General of Horse for the Parliament, and commanded the reserve at the battle of Edge Hill, 23 Oct. 1643; subsequently joined the King at Oxford, and served at the siege of Gloucester and battle of Newbury. Lived in retirement till the Restoration, when he was made Lord-Lieutenant of Bedford and Cambridge. He was the father of William, Lord Russell, who was executed on a charge of high treason 21 July, 1683. Having concurred in the Revolution, he was created Marquis of Tavistock and Duke of Bedford 11 May, 1694. He died 7 Sept. 1700, and was buried at Cheneys, Bucks.

Sir Edward Herbert, The Attourney Generall. F.C. 26 Oct. 1643. On 25 Nov. 1643, he occupied the Little Chamber in Buller's Inn, and on 4 Dec. the North West and North Corner Cocklofts. The only other Wadham record referring to him is on the back of a MS. containing the list of burials in the College Chapel and Cloister: "Charles, the eldest son of Sir Edward, born Aug. 1644." "Edward, son of Sir Edward Herbert, Attorney-General and ye lady (blank) his wife; was born J (? une), 10, 1645; was baptised J (? une), 19."

Entered at Lincoln's Inn and called to the Bar; appointed Solicitor-General 25 Jan. 1640. M.P. for Old Sarum in the Short Parliament 1640; Attorney-General 29 Jan. 1641. On 3 Jan. 1642 he was ordered by the King to impeach the five Members before the House of Lords, for which he was himself impeached on 14 Feb. and subsequently found guilty, and committed to the Fleet for a short time. He joined the King at York, took up his residence in Oxford, and acted as Attorney-General in the Parliament held there in 1644. He is said to have resigned his place 1 Nov. 1645, but Clarendon always calls him Attorney-General till he was made Lord Keeper of the Great Seal at Paris in April, 1653, by Charles II. This titular office he retained till July, 1654, when he resigned the Seal into the King's hands, and retired from public life. He died at Paris in the autumn of 1657. Charles Herbert, the eldest son, M.P. for the town of Montgomery, succeeded his cousin, Lord Herbert, as Colonel of the Twenty-third Royal Welsh Fusiliers 10 March, 1689. He was a zealous supporter of the Revolution of 1688; and was named heir to his brother Arthur's title of Earl of Torrington; but he was killed by the enemy after being taken prisoner at the battle of Aughrim, 12 July, 1691.

Richard Martin. C. 25 March, 1643. C.M. received 5 Feb. 1642, restored 30 March, 1643.

He was one of the Bursars chosen 6 Dec. 1652, and again he is Bursar in February, 16$\frac{54}{55}$. His F. was vacant in 1657.

He was apparently a younger brother of Sir Samuel Morland, created Baronet of Sulhamsted Bannister 1660. This Sir Samuel was secretary to Thurlow, and was employed by Cromwell on various embassies, which may account for Martin Morland's retaining his position in the College. (Lysons.)

James Whetcombe. M. 26 June, 1644 (Essex. fil. Jacobi Whetcombe de Margaretting, gen. æt. 16). C. 3 May, 1647. Elected S. 20 Aug. 1647. One Peter Whetcombe is mentioned in the Foundress' Will as "my cousin."

Lloyd. One of this name is noted as B.A. of Wadham 1644-45.

Visitation, and to the present Government of this University." This is placed among the answers from Hart Hall 29 May, 1648, probably by mistake of the Visitors' Registrar. He was nominated by the Visitors to a S. at Wadham 3 Oct. 1648: and appears with a year's arrears due to him in the Bursar's Book at Christmas, 1648. B.A. 5 June, 1649. The College was visited 13 April, and John Wilkins's name was entered in the Buttery Book in place of Warden Pitt, and whereas by the College Statutes the Warden was required to proceed to D.D. within a year, the Visitors decreed on 5 May, 1648, that in consequence of John Wilkins's "attendance on the Prince Elector," he should have a dispensation for twelve months. On 5 July, 1648, he was one of a Committee (of which three was a quorum) to examine all Candidates for F.'s or S.'s. On 13 Aug. 1649, he was appointed an Assistant Delegate to the Visitors; and on 16 Oct. 1652, he was one of a Commission of five appointed by Oliver Cromwell, Chancellor, to execute the office of Chancellor.

In Aug. 1654, certain complaints were made against the Warden by the Fellows who endeavoured to get the case heard by the Lord Protector's Council; it was, however, referred to the Visitors, who on 1 Sept. entirely acquitted the Warden: and on the same day he was appointed one of a Committee to examine the Statutes of New College, with a view to diminishing the number of Lawyers among the Fellows. In 1656 he married Robina, widow of Peter French, Canon of Christ Church, and sister of the Protector, from whom he obtained a dispensation to retain the Wardenship in spite of the Statute against marriage. On 3 Sept. 1659, he resigned the Wardenship being appointed Master of Trinity College, Cambridge. He was incorporated D.D. at Cambridge 18 May, 1658, but was ejected from Trinity in 1660.

He subsequently became Rector of Cranford, Middlesex, 10 Dec. 1661; Vicar of St. Lawrence Jewry, 11 April, 1662, till 1668; Rector of Polebrook, Northampton, 7 Nov. 1666; Prebendary of Chamberlainswood, 19 July, 1667, till 12 Jan. 166$\frac{8}{9}$; Preacher at Gray's Inn; Dean of Ripon; and was consecrated Bishop of Chester 15 Nov. 1668. He died 19 Nov. 1672, and was buried at St. Lawrence Jewry, 12 Dec. His funeral sermon was preached by William Lloyd (afterwards one of the Seven Bishops, see 1655). He was one of the first Members of the Royal Society to which he was also a benefactor.

"A noted theologist and preacher, a curious critic in several matters, an excellent mathematician and experimentist, and one as well seen in mechanisms and new philosophy as any of his time." (Wood, Ath. III. 968.)

For a catalogue of his works, mathematical and theological, see Wood, Ath. III. 969, &c. His portrait hangs in the College Hall. Gutch says that he bequeathed £200 to Wadham.

Bartholomew Grave, A.M. Appointed Jf. by Decree of the Visitors 11 Oct. 1648, and admitted 5 Feb. 164$\frac{8}{9}$: of Stratford-le-Bow, Middlesex. On 14 April, 1648, he was incorporated M.A. from St. Andrews University, at which time was a C. of Merton. From the Records at St. Andrews it appears that Bartholomew Grave (Anglus, Londinensis), was incorporated in St. Leonard's College in 1645, and graduated in Arts in 1647

(his name is entered as Gray in the Faculty Quæstor's Book). As a Member of Merton his answer to the Visitors 12 May, 1648, was: "I submitt to the authoritie of Parliament in this Visitation." He held the office of Bursar 1649, and again 1651, and was Sub-Warden 1650. His name occurs for the last time as ℱ. in the Bursar's Book at Midsummer 1653, but he still had a Chamber (the First Upper Chamber from the Chapel) with a Cockloft over the Second Upper Chamber from the Chapel for his servitor Jilbret, i.e. Gilbert, and appears in the Bursar's Book as a ℱ.𝔠. in 1654. On 23 Aug. 1654, the Visitors noted his absence from College, and required him to return with all convenient speed "to attend to the affaires of the House."

Joshua Bowden, A.M. Appointed ℱ. by Decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648, and admitted 5 Feb. 16$\frac{48}{49}$: of Morton, Devon. 𝔐. Magdalen Hall 1642 (pleb. fil. æt. 17). M.A. 14 April, 1648. He replied to the Visitors 4 May, 1648: "I submitt to the authority of Parliament in this Visitation." He was Bursar in 1650, and again in 1652, and signs as Sub-Warden 7 March, 1653; but in the Bursar's Book he appears as Catechist for that year. We find him as Sub-Warden in May, 1654, after which his name disappears from the accounts.

Samuel Lee, A.M. Appointed ℱ. by Decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648, and admitted 5 Feb. 16$\frac{48}{49}$. He was the only son of Samuel Lee, haberdasher of Fish Street Hill, London, born 1625, and was educated at St. Paul's School. He had entered Magdalen Hall 1647, and was created M.A. 14 April, 1648. On 4 Jan. 1649, he was recommended for a ℱ. at All Souls, and the order was repeated on 18 Jan.: but he remained at Wadham. He was appointed Junior Proctor 9 April, 1651, for although he was not of sufficient standing, yet the Visitors (considering the present necessity) granted a dispensation that he might hold the office on 20 March, 1650. He held the office of Bursar Oct. 1648, and again 1650 and 1654, and Sub-Warden 1652: and he appears as Dean in the Bursar's Book of 1653. On 23 Aug.

1654, the Visitors noted his absence from College, and required him to return with all convenient speed to attend to the affairs of the House. He made a vacancy among the ℱ.'s in 1657. While at Wadham he endeavoured to introduce a stricter system of accounts, and during his Bursarship made a plan of the College Chambers, and tried to set the Chamber Book records on a better footing. Lived in the Third Upper Chamber from the Chapel, which he took 19 March, 1648, and out of which he was paid 13 June, 1656.

Cromwell gave him the living of St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, and he was also Lecturer at St. Helen's. After the Restoration he lived on his estate at Bicester, and "sometimes kept conventicles." In 1686 he went to America and become pastor of Bristol, Rhode Island, 8 May, 1687. He preached at the public fast in Boston 17 June, 1691. As he was returning to Europe 1691, he was captured by a French vessel, and died at St. Malo. He was author of numerous sermons and theological works (see Wood's Ath. IV. 345, and W. B. Sprague's Annals of the American Pulpit, Vol. I. p. 209).

William Rathband, B.A. Appointed ℱ. by Decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648, and admitted 5 Feb. 16$\frac{48}{49}$ (de parva Lever, Lanc.). Incorporated B.A. 10 Oct. 1648 (e Coll. Emman. Cantab). M.A. 14 June, 1649 (as Rathbone). He held the office of Bursar 1652; of Librarian 1653. His last appearance in the Bursar's Books is in 1658.

He entered Emmanuel College, Cambridge, as Sizar 7 April, 1643 (of Lancashire), and graduated B.A. (Wrothband) 1646. He is said to have died in 1695 or 1696.

Robert Webber, B.A. Appointed ℱ. by Decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648, and admitted 5 Feb. 16$\frac{48}{49}$: of Mayden Newton, Dorset. ℳ. 20 Feb. 1648 (sacerdotis fil.). B.A. (Webb) 17 Oct. 1648. M.A. 12 Oct. 1650. His reply to the Visitors was: "I, Robert Webber, doe cheerfully and willingly submitt to the power of Parliament in this Visitation, which I had before this expressed, had not I necessarily been detained in the country." (? dated 29 Sept. 1648). He was Bursar

1653. On 23 Aug. 1654, his absence from College was noted by the Visitors, and he was required to return to College with all convenient speed, but his name does not occur in the Bursar's accounts after that year. He occupied the Fourth Upper Chamber from the Hall from 5 July, 1649, to 29 Oct. 1655.

John Willis, B.A. Appointed ℱ. by decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648, and admitted 5 Feb. 16$\frac{48}{49}$ (of Raighley, Essex). 𝔐. 20 Feb. 1648 (sacerdotis fil.). B.A. 17 Oct. 1648. M.A. 27 July, 1650. He was Bursar 1654 and 1655, and Sub-Warden 1657. His name is not found in the Bursar's Books after 1658. Lived in College Upper Chamber, and apparently rented the Cockloft over it.

Possibly he was a son of John Willis, an original 𝔖. 1613.

Abraham Wright. Appointed 𝔖. by decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648. 𝔐. 20 Feb. 1648 (pleb. fil.). B.A. 24 Feb. 16$\frac{51}{52}$. He appears in the Bursar's Book with three quarters' arrears of 𝔖. due to him at Christmas, 1648: his name disappears after 1652. From the Bursar's Book it looks as if he had been elected 𝔓. in 1650 or 1651: but there is no record of any election of 𝔓.'s in those years.

Alexander Hodge. Appointed 𝔖. by decree of the Visitors 3 Oct. 1648. 𝔐. 22 March, 1650 (Doctoris fil.). B.A. 1 April, 1652 M.A. 1 June, 1654. Admitted ℱ. 8 July, 1654. His name appears in the Bursar's Book with three quarters' arrears due Christmas, 1648, and continues to appear up to 1658. He entered upon the Fourth Upper Chamber from the Hall 29 Oct. 1655, and on 11 May, 1658, allowed part of the valuation to go for his brother's, (Thomas Hodge, 1658), 𝔠.𝔐., but he was not paid out till 16 April, 1660.

Chaplain at Amsterdam 1669; died 1689.

The nine names which follow are stated in the Register of Visitors to be those of Scholars appointed to places in Wadham College, but as there is no trace of any of them at Wadham, I am inclined to suspect that the Registrar entered the name of the wrong College against them; particularly as five of them were educated at Merchant Taylors' School, and proceeded thence to St. John's College in this year.

Dalender. John Dallender. ℳ. Trinity, 16 Dec. 1646 (Sussex. fil. Nicholas Dallender de Chichester, gen. æt. 18). He submitted to the Visitors 5 May, 1648.

Possibly Master of Reading Grammar School 1655.

Hall. This name cannot be traced, unless Joseph Hall 16$\frac{41}{42}$, is confirmed in his S. by the Visitors, or as he occurs among the Merchant Taylor boys and St. John's men, possibly it is John Hall, only son of John Hall, clergyman. M.A. and Parson of Bromsgrove, Worc. born there 29 Jan. 1633, and educated at Merchant Taylors' School. As Undergraduate of Pembroke College, Oxford, he submitted to the Visitors 5 May, 1648, where he was appointed S. by the Visitors 22 April, 1650. B.A. 1651. M.A. 1653. He received a testimonial that he was "godly, studious, and of good proficiency in learning," on 17 July, 1655, F. of Pembroke. Master of Pembroke 1664-17$\frac{09}{10}$. B.D. 1666. D.D. 1669. Margaret Professor of Divinity 1676-1691. Bishop of Bristol 1691. Died 4 Feb. 17$\frac{09}{10}$.

Baker. Probably John Baker, born 15 Dec. 1631, educated at Merchant Taylors' School, and elected to St. John's 1648. M. St. John's 20 Feb. $16\frac{48}{49}$ (pleb. fil.), but there is another John Baker who M. St. John's 13 Nov. 1650 (gen. fil.). B.A. (St. John's) 4 March, $16\frac{51}{52}$. M.A. 25 Oct. 1654.

Manninge. Edward Manninge. M. St. John's 20 Feb. $16\frac{48}{49}$ (pleb. fil.). B.A. (St. John's) 6 March, $16\frac{51}{52}$.

Thomas Lawrence. Appointed F. by the Visitors, but there is no record of his admission. M.A. (Exeter) 17 Oct. 1648. Bursar Oct. 1648, and again Dec. 1648. He took part in the admission of Scholars 7 Sept. 1649. He appears in the Bursar's Book 1649, when he is placed between Lee and Rathband, but his name is not found after 1650.

Walter Pope. He was appointed S. by the Visitors in 1648, but there is no record of his admission. B.A. 6 July, 1649. M.A. 10 July, 1651. He obtained an order for a F. 3 July, 1651, from the Committee for the Reformation of the Universities, vice Bartlett resigned; and was admitted 9 July, 1651. He was Moderator of Philosophy 1653; Bursar 1655, 1657; Sub-Warden 1658; also he was elected Dean for 1660-1661; Junior Proctor 21 April, 1658. M.D. (favore Cancellarii) 9 Sept. 1661. In 1654 he was living in the Middle Chamber next the Tower on the South side, and on 13 June, 1656, took the Third Upper Chamber from the Chapel which he vacated 29 Sept. 1662. He was "amotus" from his F. 27 June, 1662, being then Professor of Astronomy in Gresham College to which he had been elected in succession to Wren, March, 1660.

He was uterine brother of Dr. Wilkins, the intruded Warden, and was born at Faulsley, i.e. Fawsley, Northants. He was first a member of Trinity College, Cambridge, 1645. He was subsequently Registrar for the diocese of Chester 1668, and an original F. of the Royal Society, 20 May, 1663. He published the Life of Dr. Seth Ward, Bishop of Salisbury. Wood attributes to him numerous works of a fugitive nature, including the Memoirs of M. Du Vall (the highwayman). He resigned his Gresham Professorship 21 Sept. 1687, and retired into the country to Epsom ; but later returned to Buning (? Bunhill) Fields, where he died, June, 1714, and was buried in Cripplegate Church ; where the entry in the Register is :

Burials in June, 1714

Christopher Wren. C.M. received as F.C. 25 June, 1649 or 1650, restored by Bursar Morland 25 Jan. (probably 1653). B.A. 18 March, $16\frac{50}{51}$. M.A. 11 Dec. 1653, but before the Act he had become a member of All Souls', being elected P. there Nov. 1653. He seems, however, to have still maintained his connection with Wadham, as he paid for the Chamber over the gate 13 Oct. 1663, and on 28 Nov. 1660 took part in the foundation of the Royal Society. He was son of Dr. Christopher Wren, Dean of Windsor and of Binchester in Durham; but is said (at All Souls') to be of the county of Wilts, having been born at East Knoyle, Wilts, 20 Oct. 1632. He remained eight years at All Souls', where he was made D.C.L. 12 Sept. 1661. He was chosen Professor of Astronomy in Gresham College 7 Aug. 1657; but resigned his Gresham Professorship 8 March, $16\frac{60}{61}$, on being elected to the Savilian Professorship of Astronomy at Oxford 5 Feb. $16\frac{60}{61}$, which he resigned 9 April, 1673.

"He was an admirable architect, a profound mathematician, and well versed in classical learning." He was Surveyor to the Crown from the time of Charles II. to George I., "the length of whose life enriched the reigns of several princes, and disgraced the last of them," says Horace Walpole. Knighted 1674. President of the Royal Society 1680. He was M.P. for Plymton, Devon, 1675, and for Melcombe Regis, Dorset, 1700. He died 25 Feb. 1722, aged 91, and was buried in St. Paul's Cathedral 5 March, $17\frac{22}{23}$. His portrait hangs in the College Hall.

John Ball. M. 20 Feb. 1648 (sacerd. fil.). Elected S. 7 Sept. 1649 (aged 18, of Crewcorne, Somerset.). B.A. 7 July, 1652. M.A. 31 May, 1655. Admitted F. 9 July, 1655. He was Bursar 1659; and elected Dean 6 Dec. 1659, but died 30 July, 1660; and on 10 Aug. 1660, Turges was elected Dean, vice John Ball, "nuper defuncti." He is entered, however, as buried in the College Chapel 26 Aug. 1660; and a stone was placed in the Antechapel, marked J. B. 1660. He was Magister Scholarum 1659, and Wood describes him as "philosophus egregius." He was probably elected P. in July, 1654, as on 1 Sept. 1654, Sir Ball and Sir Crosse were called upon by the Visitors "to give accompt of the authority whereby they were elected into F.s, and when Wadham College was restored to a capacity to make elections by an express Order of the late Committee for regulating the Universities." The Visitors had reported to the Committee that "Wadham was in a fitt capacity to make its own elections" 28 May, 1651; but it would seem that the Committee had never acknowledged this report.

John Blaxton (Blackstone). M. 20 Feb. 1648 (sacerd. fil.). C.M. received as C. 20 Oct. 1648, taken up for Battels 28 Oct. 1649. His name is in the Bursar's Accounts 1648-49.

Marcus King. M. 20 Feb. 1648 (serviens.). Was apparently Clerk at Christmas, 1648 (Bursar's Book), but his name does not appear again.

Francis Dussell. M. 20 Feb. 1648 (serviens). C.M. received as B. 23 March, 1649. His name is in the Bursar's Accounts 1648-49.

Row. This name appears among the S.s in the Bursar's Book 1649, between Bragg and Wright; as it never occurs again, and occupies the position where Pope should be, it is possibly a mistaken entry or transcription: see however, James Rowe 1653.

John Hobson. Admitted Chaplain 6 July, 1649 ("in Presbytereum sive Capellanum"), born at Agnes Burton, co. York. He took the Oath on his admission to observe the College statutes, "quatenus consentanea sint Verbo Dei et Ordinationibus Parliamenti"). He was created B.A. 14 July, 1649; John Hobson, "provectioris ætatis studiosus et capellanus electus Wadh. Coll.," and M.A. the same day, "virtute dispensatione delegatorum." He appears as Chaplain in the Bursar's Book 1649, but not afterwards.

Charles Morton. Admitted S. 7 Sept. 1649, aged 19, of Egloshayle, Cornwall. B.A. 6 Nov. 1649. M.A. 24 June, 1652. Possibly Charles Mourton, Undergraduate of New Inn Hall, who submitted to the Visitors 4 May, 1648.

Charles Morton died in New England 1706.

John Hadocke. Admitted S. 7 Sept. 1649, aged 18, of Preston, Lancashire. B.A. 6 Nov. 1649.

He was probably elected P. July, 1654, as it is recorded that the Visitors questioned his election 1 Sept. 1654 (see under John Ball 1648), but it seems that he was never admitted F. and his name only occurs once in the Bursar's Books, March, 16$\frac{55}{56}$.

After the Restoration he went to Leyden, in Holland, where he obtained the degree of Doctor of Physic, and afterwards he returned to Bristol, where he practised with good success, and died in the parish of St. Walberg 1675. He was author of Disputatio medica inauguralis de febre intermittente.

George Boraston. Admitted S. 7 Sept. 1649, aged 17, of Ribsford, Worcester. M. 14 Nov. 1650 (min. fil.). B.A. 4 Feb. 16$\frac{52}{53}$. M.A. 4 July, 1655.

His father was Minister of Beaudly, Worcester; Rector of Hever, Kent; author of The Royal Law, a sermon at the Worcestershire Feast 1683.

Henry Dent. Admitted S. 7 Sept. 1649, aged 19, of Stanton Fryor, i.e. Pryor, Somerset. M. 14 Nov. 1650 (serviens). B.A. Feb. 16$\frac{52}{53}$. M.A. 16 July, 1655. Admitted F. 11 Dec. 1656. In 1654 he occupied a room on the first floor adjoining the Chapel, and probably also in the Double Chamber in Buller's Inn, though the name appears as Denne. His name appears in the Bursar's Books up to 1659.

William Turges. Admitted S. 7 Sept. 1649, aged 19, of Uphaven, Wilts. M. 14 Nov. 1650 (gen. fil.). B.A. 4 Feb. 16$\frac{52}{53}$. M.A. 22 June, 1655. M.B. 22 July, 1658. Admitted F. 20 Oct. 1654. Bursar 1657-1658. Some difference arose among the F.s as to the election of F.s in 1653, and on 9 Sept. the Visitors called upon the Warden and F.s to proceed to a fresh election into the two vacant F.s within one month, and on the 18 Oct. 1653, sanctioned an agreement whereby Turges was chosen P. into one of the vacant places, and the other was kept vacant for a year. Elected Dean (vice Ball, "nuper defuncti") 10 Aug. 1660. On 20 Dec. 1654, he took over the Fourth South Upper Chamber from Mr. Estcot. His name continues to appear among the F.s till 1661.

Sebastian Pitchfield. Created B.A. 26 May, 1649 ("favore Dni Thomæ Baronis Fairfax generaliss. exercit. Parl. et Oliveri Cromwell ejus locum tenentis dum Oxoniæ agebant").

It is doubtful whether he really entered at Wadham.

Possibly Edmund Tooke 1636.

Seth Ward. Prælector of Astronomy, incorporated M.A. from Cambridge 23 Oct. 1649. His C.M. as F.C. was received 29 April, 1650, restored 2 April, 1660. Lived in the Chamber over the Gate, which he vacated 2 May, 1660; and in 1654 he also occupied the First Floor Room adjoining it on the North. He proceeded D.D. by dispensation from the Delegates 29 May, 1654, "Astron. Professor, sanctæ Theol. studiosus per decennium." Born 1617, and educated at Buntingford, Herts. M. at Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, 1 Dec. 1633 (but the Register at Cambridge says 4 July), "fil. Johannis Ward attornati, ætat. ferme 16." Servitor and subsequently S. of Sidney. B.A. $16\frac{36}{37}$. M.A. 1640. Ejected for his loyalty 1643. Chaplain to Lord Wenman 1649; one of the Committee for the Reformation of the University of Oxford; Savilian Professor of Astronomy 1649-1661; Precentor of Exeter Cathedral 1656; elected Principal of Jesus College, Oxford, 1657, but not installed; elected President of Trinity College, Oxford, 1659, from which he was ejected at the Restoration.

Dean of Exeter 1660; Bishop of Exeter 1662; Bishop of Salisbury 1667; Chancellor of the Order of the Garter 1671. He died 6 Jan. $16\frac{88}{89}$, and was buried in the Cathedral at Salisbury. He founded almshouses at Salisbury and at Buntingford; and was the author of numerous Sermons and Works on Astronomy, Philosophy, and Mathematics (see Wood's Ath. IV. 246). He was one of the first members of the Royal Society. His life was written by Dr. W. Pope, F.R.S., see 1648.

Squibs. C.M. received 16 Feb. $16\frac{49}{50}$, returned in Battels. Mr. Squibb C. of Trinity, was summoned before the Visitors 4 May, 1648.

Squibb is a Dorsetshire name at Swyre, and Ewern Minster, and Whitchurch.

John Studely. C.M. received 18 Feb. $16\frac{49}{50}$, restored 24 April (apparently) 1652.

away in the flower of his years. He was a merciful man, and showed great pity and compassion to souls; was earnest with them to leave their sins, and close with Christ. He spent himself and hastened his own death to keep others from perishing everlastingly. He was an upright man, a true-hearted Nathanael, and one of very promising hopes for very considerable usefulness." (Cox's Lives and Times of the Janeways.)

Consecrated Bishop of Oxford 17 Oct. 1686, when he retained his Archdeaconry, but he had resigned his Prebend in 1685. He was intruded into the President's place at Magdalen College, by the mandate of King James II. 25 Oct. 1687; and died in his lodgings in that College on 20 March following. He was buried by torch-light on 24 March on the South side of the Ante-Chapel, but no memorial marks the place of his interment. He was the author of numerous controversial works, covering a wide ground, for he was educated as a Puritan, and died under suspicion of favouring the designs of the King to restore Romanism: also of A History of His Own Time, first published in 1727.

interval he probably resigned, as he was never admitted to his ℱ.

On 13 Dec. 1662, William Adams (B.A. Wadham) born in the diocese of Lincoln, and John à Court (B.A. Lincoln) of the diocese of Wells, were elected into ℱ.'s of Lincoln College. The Election was appealed against by John Robinson and Henry Foulis, ℱ.s, and Christopher Pike, M.A. of Lincoln, who claimed the Election. On 26 Dec. the Bishop of Lincoln (Robert Sanderson) ordered the Rector (Paul Hood) not to admit Adams, and à Court, pendente lite, but this prohibition arrived too late, because on 29 Dec. 1662, Hood had admitted them. On 10 Jan. 166$\frac{2}{3}$, the Bishop, being ill, withdrew the prohibition against à Court, and constituted Baily, President of St. John's, Pierce, President of Magdalen, and Fell, Dean of Christ Church, a Commission to decide in the dispute about Adam's ℱ., enjoining them to see "that the parish of Rotherham, Yorks, had no hurt:" this phrase renders it probable that the dispute was about whether the ℱ. should be filled up from York or Lincoln diocese. The Commissioners must have decided for Adams, because he continued on the books till 1666. On 2 Aug. 1666, orders are made about two vacant ℱ.s, of which Adams's must be one. It is not stated whether the vacancy arose by resignation or death.

Francis Pyle. M. 16 July, 1661 (fil. Georgii Pyle de Exōn. gen. æt. 16). Admitted S. 27 Sept. 1661 of Exeter, aged 17. B.A. 11 May, 1665: on the 6 March, 166⅞, he was allowed to proceed to M.A. "ea conditione ut proximis comitiis omni suo jure in Coll. resignaret." M.A. 10 March. He seems, however, to have given trouble, for there is an entry in the Convention Book, where after rehearsing the above it goes on, "Ille vero fidem Gardiano datam omni fraude et perfidia violavit: (qui vero fidem fallit, oppugnat omnium commune præsidium). Propterea per Gardianum in præsentia Sociorum sexto die Maii 1669 amotus est a Collegio in perpetuum." Pyle appealed to the Visitor William (Pierce) Bishop of Bath and Wells, who on 22 May cited the Warden and Fellows to appear before him, at his house, at Walthamstow on 17 June. On 14 June, the Bishop writes from Wells, that his age and health have interfered with his plans, and that he is sending another citation: on 17 June the Warden replied denying the Bishop's right to visit, unless requested (except once in five years,) and then only at the College. They were however summoned to Wells, for 2 Sept, "cui ut obicem ponerent" they obtained a letter from Gilbert (Sheldon) Archbishop of Canterbury, 24 Aug., in which it is declared that they had obeyed the first citation at great expense, not from any exigency of the Statutes. On 28 Aug. the Warden replied to the Bishop refusing to attend and gave his reasons. On 2 Sept. the Bishop decreed that Pyle should be restored. The Warden then wrote to the Archbishop stating "the complainant brought me a decree late at night on Michaelmas Eve, ordering his restoration on pain of suspension. He then went off to London, and told me my Lord would be here in a fortnight, and the College would be too hot to hold us both." The College appears to have called in the advice of William Turner, formerly a fellow of the College (see 1620), who writes on 12 Oct. from Exeter House that he has seen the Archbishop and had hoped to have met the Bishop there. Again he writes on 14 Oct. that he has seen the Archbishop's Secretary, and is given to understand that the Bishop denies the decree of Restoration and the use of threats, and that he seems very pliable and wishes to see the writer. Here the matter ends, but Pyle was apparently not reinstated.

Sacred to the memory
Of George Pitt of Strathfieldsay in the county of Southampton, Esq.
Who died 28 Feb. 1734, in the 72nd year of his age,
And lyes there interred with his ancestors.

He was adorned with many virtues both public and private. A true and disinterested love of his country banished from his mind all party prejudices and selfish views. He always preferred the public good to royal favour, and the liberty of acting by the dictates of his conscience to the enticement of honours which he had the fortitude to refuse. In private life he showed himself far from affecting admiration or popularity, yet was his appearance venerable, and his conversation endearing, which acquired him both. His universal benevolence and exemplary charity bore so just a proportion to his affection for his family, that while he was the refuge of the poor and distressed, and supported an hospitality suitable to his estate, he made ample provision for a numerous issue, and rendered the figure of his relict not unworthy of her ancestors, whose ancient seat of Kingston in this parish he rebuilt. Such was he while he lived, and dying left to his descendants a valuable example; to perpetuate which as well as to give a lasting testimony of her just regard to her most tender and most beloved husband, Lora, the only daughter and heiress of Audeley Grey, of Kingston aforesaid, Esq., erected this monument.

Admitted Chaplain 7 Dec. 1694 (the last entry in the Admission book before the great gap), but he does not appear as Chaplain after 1696. He appears to have held the office of Sub-Warden 1695—1696: but as he was not a F. this seems improbable. He was Proproctor in the year 1705, when Hearne mentions (Oct. 31) that he opposed the degrees of the son of the Bishop of Worcester (Dr. Lloyd).

He was Rector of Aston Clinton, Bucks., 1 Dec. 1716: his Will is dated Oct. 1745, and was proved in the following March: he was buried at Aston 28 Jan. 17$\frac{45}{46}$, where there is a slab with this inscription:

This was the first presentation made by the College, no vacancy having occurred since the Advowson was given them in 1668 (see Thomas Aynscombe 1663). From the tenor of his will he seems to have resided much at Cirencester; Mr. Turner seems generally to have officiated as Curate of Wadhurst, but from 1732—1736 the Vicar's writing is found in the Registers. He died 31 Jan. 17$\frac{42}{43}$, and was buried at Wadhurst, where there is a monument on the North Wall of the Chancel with this inscription:

Also at the entrance of the Chancel of the Church at Cirencester is a monument with this inscription:

To the memory of the Rev. John Willett, only son of John and Susanna Willett, inhabitants of this town. He was many years Vicar of Wadhurst, in Sussex, and among other exemplary qualities exhibited a striking instance of the goodness of his heart in his attention towards his twin sister, Mrs. Susanna Clutterbuck, who was left a widow with six children: his tender regard for their welfare ceased but at his death, which happened 30 Jan. 1742, in the 70th year of his age, when his remains were deposited in his own parish church of Wadhurst.

This and the corresponding monument were erected by the executors of Mrs. Elizabeth Cripps in pursuance of his will.

The corresponding monument is to the memory of the Clutterbuck family.

Hear me at least, O hear me, in the grave.

He is the only C. who appears in the College record of those who took the Oaths of Allegiance, &c. required after the accession of George I., which he did at Oxford on 12 Jan. 17$\frac{15}{16}$.

He took the Oaths of Allegiance, &c. required after the accession of George I. at New Sarum on 11 Jan. 1715, whence I infer that he was the Goodridge Exhibitioner of the name in 1715 and 1716.

Somerset, 8 Feb. 1720. On 6 Dec. 1736, he was desired to give up his accounts on 15 April, 1737. On 5 June, 1737, Mr. Thomas (Bursar) or Mr. Stone, or both of them were desired to consult Dr. Brooke (probably Henry Brooke, D.C.L. of All Souls) "what method is most proper to sequester Mr. Speke's living and effects for debts due to the College." On 30 June, 1738, he was ordered to give up his accounts on 10 July and on 13 July he was allowed one day more, viz. 23 October next—then the College to take proper steps to oblige him by law. In the meanwhile no Bursar was to pay him any money. On 27 March, 1739, it was ordered that his ℱ. should be sequestered, and a guinea is charged in the accounts for the expense: again at Midsummer, 1740, there is a charge (£2 19*s.*) for the same purpose. His ℱ. was vacant 30 June, 1741. On 25 March, 1746, it was resolved to release Philip Speke late ℱ. from his debt for £100, and all costs to be paid in six months, and on 25 Oct. the release was granted for £100 and £12 costs. APPENDIX.

The Chamber Books.

FREQUENT reference has been made to the chambers occupied by various members of the College, partly because evidence is thereby afforded of residence previous to matriculation or without matriculating at all, of continued residence after graduating, or after the restoration of Caution; partly because in the case of Fellows and Scholars some evidence is thereby given of continued residence. The particulars there referred to are obtained from the Chamber Books, of which there are two, referring to the period of College history included in this volume.

The first of these is a thin book bound in leather and tied with two green ribbons (Warden's MSS. 20). Each page is ruled for three columns: the first contains the date of taking possession of the chamber, the second the name of the occupant, the third the date of vacating the chamber. It appears to have been begun about 1620, with a view of registering the names of persons who were not members of the foundation to whom chambers were let. It is irregularly kept, for it is not continued for more than three or four years, then the entries are resumed again in 1636, and again in 1647. These original entries extended over thirty-nine pages; then after a few blank pages comes a list of the cocklofts (garrets) round the quadrangle compiled apparently in 1643—but not more than half a dozen names of occupants are entered.

The second Chamber Book is bound in parchment (Warden's MSS. 21), and contains much more information than the other one. In the early part each opening of two pages contains the details of one chamber; on the left page the particulars of the furniture in the chamber with its subordinate studies, on the right the names of successive occupants, with a notice of the sums paid by them to their predecessors.

The first forty-five pages contain an account of almost the same chambers as those mentioned in the other book, mainly occupied by persons who were not on the foundation then on page 49 comes a resolution of the Warden and eleven Fellows, dated 21 Feb. 1623, as to the valuation of Fellows' rooms, which is followed by an account occupying eleven openings of the book (with one extra opening for a cockloft) of the rooms occupied by the Fellows. After this (page 74) apparently a fresh record is begun, made by the intruded Fellows of 1647, and corresponding to the annexed plan: the entries are scanty. But at the end of the volume we come to the complete list of rooms made apparently by Bursar Lee in July, 1654, with their rental annexed. In the last opening is on the left a summary of the furniture of the upper Chaplain's chamber, and on the right a note of the gifts of William Payton, Vicar of Southrop, to his successors; on the back of this last is a summary of the furniture in the "chamber under Mr. Basil" (who was a Chaplain). Now these chambers were assigned as follows by the Foundress: to the Warden the "cubiculum supra magnam Collegii portam et septem cubicula proxime adjacentia ex parte Boreali;" to each Fellow "unum cubiculum cum omnibus suis musæolis" The Scholars are to dwell three in each "cubiculum." She then goes on to speak of the remaining "cubicula," and says that for them and for "superioribus tricliniis seu cameris," which are to be assigned to Commoners or Battelars forty shillings a year is to be the charge.

Now it is clear that "cubiculum" means a large room to which one, two or three musæola (studies) were attached; but it is not clear whether any distinction is drawn between "cubicula" and "superiora triclinia seu cameræ." Again, if the Warden had seven cubicula, he must have had nearly all No. 1 staircase, and in that case where are we to find the rooms called Buller's Inn and Prince's? All that can be said is that in those days the rooms were perhaps differently partitioned: and that the Warden seems to have abandoned the rooms assigned him very soon, and probably took possession of the north-west angle, where his lodgings still are: at any rate we find Manning in 1640 and Wren in 1660 living over the gate.

The rooms occupied by the first Fellows would seem to be those not noticed in the first Chamber Book, noticed in the second hand in the second book, and corresponding fairly with those valued as Fellows' chambers in Bursar Lee's list. It will be observed that the cocklofts are never mentioned in the early handwriting in the Chamber Books—they seem to have been attached to the Fellows' chambers: also of ground-floor rooms, the only ones noticed were those on the west side, and the two close to the chapel and hall. Were the others given up to the College servants? At any rate the Manciple's chamber appears to have been on the ground floor in the north-west corner. The ground floor chamber near the chapel seems to have been assigned to the clerks, whose duty was to summon the members of the College and to ring the bell for "preces, lecturas, disputationes, omnia exercitia, prandium et cœnam."

On the 20th of December, 1613, the Foundress in a letter directs that the two chaplains be placed in "the chambers on the right side of the gate that have but one study apiece."

It is clear that in Bursar Lee's time some building existed besides the quadrangle, for he writes of the Backlodgings; it was probably the present No. 9, the date of the building of which I have not been able to discover; but if so, its internal arrangements have been entirely altered.

It seems that in each cubiculum, so many men lived as it had musæola or studies, sleeping in the great chamber and each having his private closet. The furniture was scanty; it appears from the statutes that the College supplied tables, benches and bed-trestles at any rate for Fellows' chambers, but anything else, such as casements, window-leaves (shutters), shelves, locks and keys; portals (outer doors), hearths "doggs and tonges," carpets (of darnix) and hangings of the same were all charged to the incoming tenant for the benefit of the outgoing one. They were not however very expensive, the highest charge for one man being in early times apparently about twenty-five shillings. Annexed is Bursar Lee's numbered plan of the College and its chambers together with his list and rent roll: and an attempt has been made to identify the chambers mentioned in each of the early Chamber Books with those numbered on Lee's plan.

Page 93. Nicholas Monk: add "He waited 60 years for a monument, which was erected by his last descendant, Christopher Rawlinson, in 1723."

Page 138. John Carleil: John Carlisle was Rector of Spaxton, Somerset, from Dec. 9, 1645, till his death in 1668. On the centre of the Patten there is, "Spaxton, John Carlisle, Rect. 1662"; and round it, "I will pay Thee my vows," Psalm lxvi.; and, "It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy," Prov. xx. 25.

Page 198. Nicholas Floyd. A small MS. volume, written by him, dated Wadham College 1656, containing a funeral discourse on the death of his brother Edward (Psalm xlix. 7), entitled "Βίος μὴ Παλίμβιος, or Life Irrecoverable," and some Latin verses on the death of his brother and sisters is described in Gentleman's Magazine, 1803, p. 896.

Vicar of Long Burton 26 Aug. 1712; chaplain at Leweston: married Elizabeth, daughter and coheiress of John Corbyn of Hazlebury Bryan: buried at Purse Caundle 15 Nov. 1757. "Alternis" in the inscription should be "alterius," probably a sculptor's mistake for "ulterius."
